

Class 7: Jazz it Up

Design by Tony Poitras
First Place and Petite Award

Tony's design featured a saxophone with a single Gomphrena emerging from the horn. The underlay was a sheet of music written for jazz saxophone and the background was a burst of music represented as an angular star-like burst.

Class 5: The Fire Eater

Design by Tony Poitras
Second Place

Tony used all tropical plant stems (Bird of Paradise, Antherium, Leucadendron, Croton, Heliconia, and Ginger) in shades of orange, yellow, red and blue to represent fire in color and shape.

Class 15: Exquisite Ballet

Design by Ginni Donovan
Second Place, 90+ Award

For Ginni, pink and white came to mind when she thought of a ballet, and an "Exquisite Ballet" meant old, traditional dinnerware, like Royal Tettau's Elegance Rose and Wedgewood's Majesty crystal. The vase and roses in Ginni's creative design mimicked a ballet position
